MESSAGE OF HIS HOLINESS POPE LEO XIV FOR THE 100th WORLD MISSION DAY 2026

Dear brothers and sisters,

For World Mission Day 2026, which marks the centenary of a celebration established by Pius XI that is very dear to the Church, I have chosen the theme "One in Christ, united in mission." Following the Jubilee Year, I wish to encourage the whole Church to continue its missionary journey with joy and zeal in the Holy Spirit. This requires hearts united in Christ, reconciled communities, and in everyone, a willingness to cooperate with generosity and trust. The mystery of union with Christ lies at the heart of the mission. Before his Passion, Jesus prayed to the Father, "that they may all be one. As you, Father, are in me and I am in you, may they also be in us" (Jn 17:21). These words reveal Jesus' deepest desire, as well as the identity of the Church as a community of his disciples. That is, a communion that flows from the Trinity, and continues to be sustained by the Trinity. A communion at the service of fraternity among all human beings and harmony with all creation.

Being a Christian is not primarily about practices or ideas; it is a life in union with Christ, in which we share in his filial relationship with the Father in the Holy Spirit. It means abiding in Christ, like branches on the vine (cf. Jn 15:4), immersed in the life of the Trinity. This union gives rise to mutual communion among believers and is the source of all missionary fruitfulness. Indeed, just as Saint John Paul II taught, "communion represents both the source and the fruit of mission" (Apostolic Exhortation Christifideles Laici, 32). In this context, the Church's primary missionary responsibility is to renew and sustain spiritual and fraternal unity among its members. In many situations, we encounter conflicts, polarization, misunderstandings, and a lack of mutual trust. When this occurs even within our communities, it undermines our witness. The evangelizing mission that Christ entrusted to his disciples requires, above all, hearts that are reconciled and eager for communion.

If unity is the condition of mission, love is its essence. The Good News that we are sent to proclaim to the world is not an abstract ideal; it is the Gospel of God's faithful love, which became flesh in the face and life of Jesus Christ. The mission of the disciples and the Church as a whole is to continue the mission of Christ in the Holy Spirit: a mission born of love, lived in love, and leading to love. In fact, the Lord himself, in his great prayer to the Father before his Passion, after invoking unity among his disciples, concludes: "so that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them" (Jn 17:26). Impelled by the love of Christ, the Apostles then went out to evangelize for Christ (cf. 2 Cor 5:14). In the same way, throughout the centuries, multitudes of Christians — martyrs, confessors and missionaries — have given their lives to make this divine love known to the world. Thus, guided by the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of love, the Church's evangelizing mission will continue until the end of time.

Question: What would you like to do to support the mission of the Church in our parish?

Fr. Marco

Please pray for the Special Intentions of Pope Leo XIV to receive plenary indulgences October 2026:

For mental health ministry

Let us pray that the mental health ministry be established throughout the Church, helping to overcome the stigma and discrimination of persons with mental illnesses.

The Seasons of Marriage

In the article "The Seasons of Marriage" the author Kathleen and Troy Billings explains that marriage goes through different seasons, just like nature changes from fall to winter and eventually to spring. Some seasons of marriage are filled with happiness, peace, and growth, while others bring unexpected challenges, uncertainty, and suffering. These difficult times may include illness, financial struggles, job loss, or other hardships that can place stress on a relationship. The author explains that change is a natural part of marriage, and even when a season seems negative or overwhelming, God can use those experiences to bring about something good. Through prayer, patience, faith, and trust in God's providence, couples can learn to face their struggles together rather than allowing those struggles to pull them apart.

The authors also compares a difficult marriage season to a tree in winter. Although a tree may appear lifeless on the outside, growth is still possible beneath the surface. In the same way, a marriage may go through periods when love feels difficult to express or when the future seems uncertain, but that does not mean the relationship has stopped growing. God can work through these hardships to help couples become stronger, more understanding, and more devoted to one another. By remaining faithful, supporting each other, and trusting that God is present even during suffering, couples can deepen their love and strengthen their marriage.

Ultimately, the author wants readers to understand that every season of marriage has a purpose, and with God's grace, even the most difficult seasons can become opportunities for spiritual growth, renewed love, and a stronger commitment to one another.

Oktoberfest Thank You!

Oktoberfest was a great success! Everyone stepped up and stepped in where needed. Whether you helped with strudel, set-up or clean-up, worked in an area for a shift or several shifts, bussed tables, bought or sold tickets, came and ate one of the dinners or several dinners, donated or bought items from the silent auction and pastry, or just prayed for a successful event, your help was greatly appreciated. It is impossible to thank every individual by name, but thank you to the chairpersons who took care of the different areas: Judy Beacco, DeAnn Gilson, Marilyn Graham & JDee Gramlich, Shawna Pierce & Sherri Regis, Dan & Tamara Dockstader, Ann Milano & Alycia Sandoval. The delicious dinner food was made possible by Olga Sanchez and Shawna Pierce, Sherri Regis and Families; Randy & Angel grilled for the event. Mike Milovich made and donated all the kielbasa and Italian sausage and Madalene Williams made our pickled eggs and popped the popcorn. The Knights covered bingo for 9 hours and Karen Ibanez made our table decoration. By everyone doing a little, we accomplished a lot. We are indeed blessed in our parish! Final figures for this year's Oktoberfest will be in the bulletin towards the end of October.
